HONGKONG, APRIL 16TH, 1890.

THE Waterworks Bill, which has been submitted by the Government for the consideration of the Sanitary Board, embodies the principles enunciated by the Hon. O. CHADWICK in his memorandum of the 12th January last. An abundant but not unlimited supply of water is to be provided for each house as a return for the amount paid as water-rate, for any extra quantity, whether wasted or required for industrial purposes, an extra charge is to be made. Every house may have its own service if the owner wishes, and for houses which are not so supplied public taps will be readily accessible. With proper regulations and supervision the waste from the latter will be small, and in houses provided with a service of their own the metering system will form an efficient check. In his memorandum Mr. CHADWICK gives particulars as to several other systems, but the Interceptor system is undoubtedly the proper one for Hongkong, when applied, as is proposed, only for the prevention of waste, and not in such a way as to check legitimate use. On this portion of the Bill, therefore, there will probably not be much difference of opinion either in the Sanitary Board or the Legislative Council. There are, however, one or two other questions which require careful consideration.

In the interpretation clause we find "The Water Authority" defined as "Any person or persons appointed by the Government to manage or supervise to do anything connected with the waterworks." We should like to see the Water Authority defined as the Sanitary Board. It is provided in section 19 that the Government may from time to time make, alter, and repeal regulations, or depute the Water Authority to make by-laws, subject to the approval of the Government, for the better carrying out of the provisions of the Ordinance in respect of certain specified matters. The proper authority to make by-laws on the subject of water supply is clearly the Sanitary Board, whether under that name or the more general title of a Municipal Council. The Water and Drainage Department having been separated from the Surveyor-General's Department, this arrangement could be easily carried out, for whatever objections may exist to the subordination of the older department to the Sanitary Board, there can be no objection to the adoption of that course in the case of a new department whose organization is not yet complete. The Sanitary Board will at all events be justified in acting for some specific declaration of the Government's intention as to the constitution of the proposed Water Authority.

Mr. CHADWICK, in his memorandum, says: "It, at some future time, a Municipality body formed the water-works, thus treated as a separated undertaking, might be taken over as a revenue-producing asset by the newly created body corporate, which would commence operations with an income derived from the investments of their predecessor. The Chinese Government might be asked to give up the ownership of the water-works in the same manner as under the sovereignty of the Queen Empress and owing to them. Hongkong is more than ever Urbs Prima in India."

A proclamation has, we learn from the Mercury's translation of native papers, been issued by Sir Dinshaw Maneckji Petit, who was knighted on the occasion of the Jubilee. We are glad to learn, however, that a Baronet. This is, of course, a special compliment to Sir Dinshaw's princely munificence, but it is also a compliment to the small but enterprising community to which he belongs. With two Barons among the Parsis here, we have a most interestingly large body of Parsis, especially those who are under the sovereignty of the Queen Empress and owing to them. Hongkong is more than ever Urbs Prima in India.

The Times of India, in its issue of the 21st ult., says: "Sir Dinshaw Maneckji Petit, who was knighted on the occasion of the Jubilee, has been created a Baronet."
